

1. The 2 main political parties in USA are called... The Democratic and the Republican Party

2. The whole process takes place in November.
True or false? False, it takes place during the whole Election year.

3. The first part of the process of the Presidential Election is called “The Primaries”

4. The Primaries are the same in all states. No, they vary from state to state.

5. During the Primaries all citizens can vote in all states.
False, they vote for delegates, in some states everybody can vote, in others only registered voters for each party.

6. The Primaries take place on different days.
True.

7. What is the “Super Tuesday”? A day were several states hold their Primary Elections.

8. Can you explain the concept of “delegates”?
During the Primaries, voters vote for a delegate, who will later at the convention vote for their candidate.

9. In 2016, US elections take place on...
November 8th.

10. On Election Day, voters don't vote for a President directly, but for an Elector.

11. The number of Electors in each state depends on their population.

12. Can you explain the principle "The winner takes it all"? The party which obtains more electors in each state, wins all the electors for that state.

13. What do we call a "swing-state"? Can you name one?
Swing-states are those where the result of the election is normally not known previously because they are not traditionally Republican neither Democratic. Florida.

14. Electors vote for their Presidential candidates in December, and these votes are counted in January.

15 .The President is invested on the 20th of January.